Help reduce the risk of an infectious disease outbreak

A Measles, Mumps or Tuberculosis outbreak in your hospital or clinic is a preventable event. Our Infectious Disease Prevention Poster helps to prevent a dangerous and embarrassing outbreak of these illnesses among your staff, patients and visitors through early identification of symptoms.

Use our poster in waiting rooms, employee lounges, and lobbies to alert staff, patients, parents, and visitors to identify and report persons suspected of having symptoms of an infectious disease. Patients with an undiagnosed cough or rash with fever should be isolated until they are assessed by your medical or professional nursing staff.

This poster is a continuous reminder to staff of these infectious symptoms. This knowledge and understanding helps to contribute to a Culture of Infection Control Awareness.
